Elevated Fire Danger Through Friday

Breezy and dry conditions will support fire ignition and spread

Weather Forecast Office
Fort Worth, TX
Issued March 17, 2021 4:27 PM CT

Humidity:

Below 30% each afternoon in the shaded region

Thursday: North winds 15 – 20 mph

Friday: North/northeast winds 10–15 mph

Be Prepared and Act if necessary:

- ✓ Check local burn bans/fire danger!
- ✓ Contact law/fire department if you smell smoke or see fire!

How to help prevent wildfires:

- ✗ Do NOT toss lit cigarettes on the ground!
- ✗ Do NOT drag tow chains on the ground!
- ✗ Do NOT park/drive over tall grass!
- ✗ Do NOT leave a campfire unattended!
- ✗ Do NOT burn unnecessarily!

weather.gov/fortworth

A cool start to the day, but sunny and pleasant conditions this afternoon with highs in the 60s. North winds of 10 to 15 mph will lead to elevated grass fire danger.

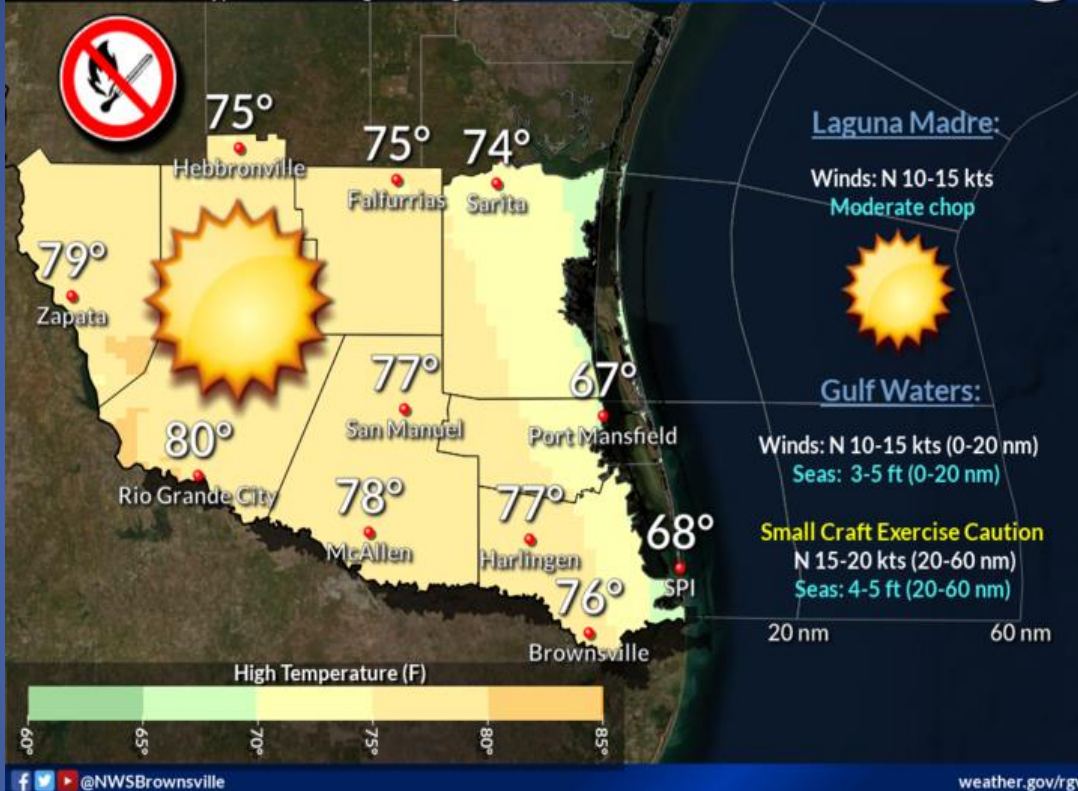

Elevated fire conditions exist tomorrow west of I-35. Humidity levels will be below 30% both days. Winds Thursday will be northerly at 15 to 20 mph and Friday 10 to 15 mph from the north/northeast. Follow fire prevention rules through the end of the week.

Hazardous Weather

Pleasant Today; Sunny and Mild

Low Afternoon Humidity | Outdoor Burning Discouraged

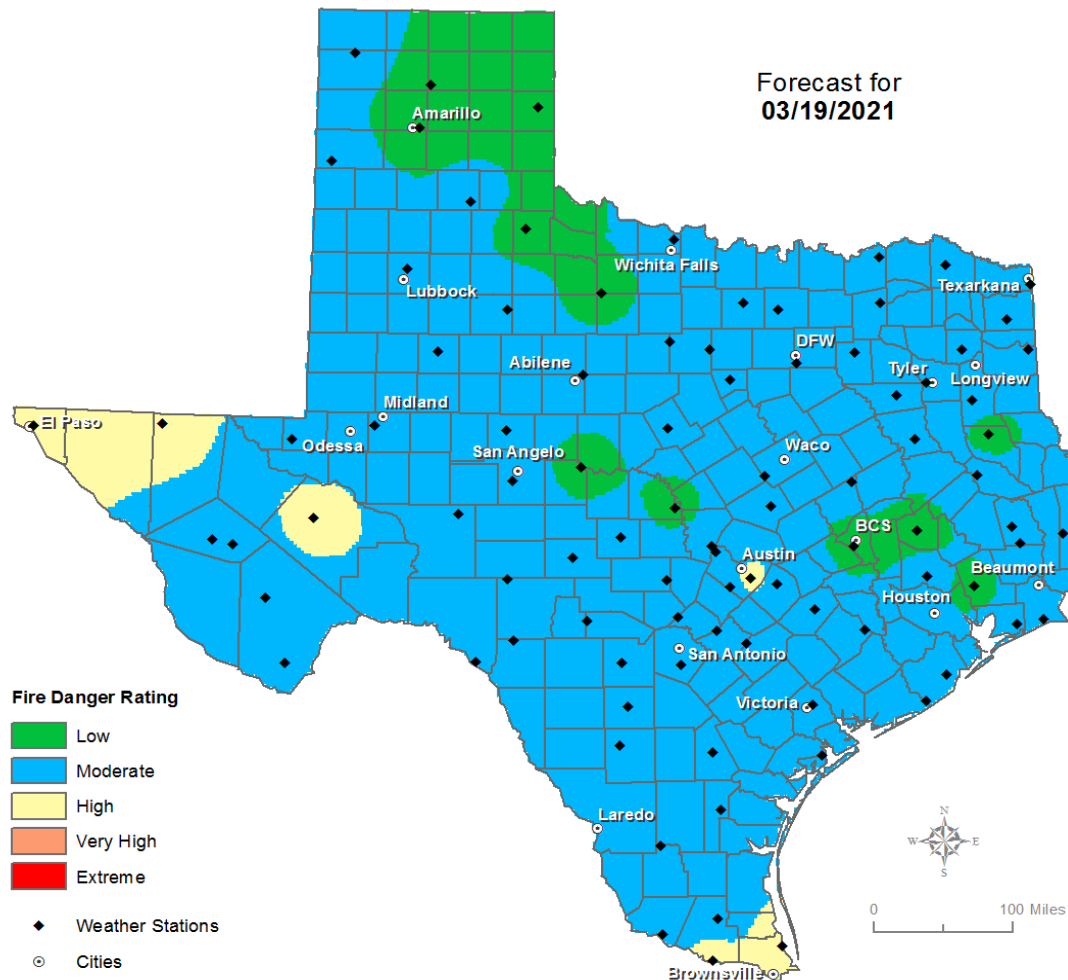

Weather Forecast Office
Brownsville/RGV, TX
Issued Mar 19, 2021 4:39 AM CDT

No weather complaints today with a near picture perfect day. A cool start to the day steadily warms up into the 70s for all locations with exception to the immediate coastline where temperatures top off in the mid to upper 60s from South Padre to Port Mansfield. Light breezes and low humidity and a clear blue sky will just add to the pleasantness of the day. Outdoor burning is still very much discouraged due to low humidity and the ongoing drought conditions! Marine conditions have improved but remaining marginally adverse for small craft.
